
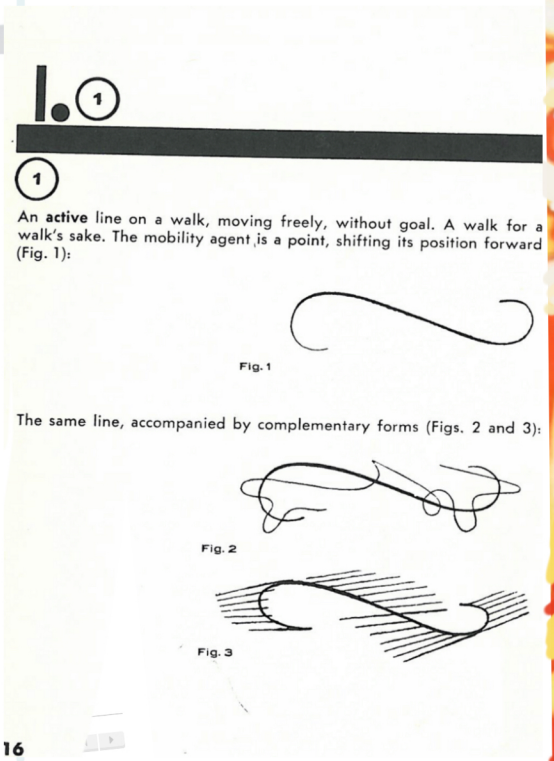
films.com
DVD & Video
Streaming Collections
Advanced Search
Search By Standards
Howard Zinn: The People's Historia
3: A Fractured Nation (1800–1865)
Part of the Series : Howard Zinn: The People's Historian
DVD (Chaptered)
DVD + 3-Year Streaming
3-Year Streaming
Share
Description
Ray Suarez interviews Howard Zinn about the rebelling working girls of Lowell mills and women becoming involved in anti-slavery and feminist movements. Zinn discusses suppression of slave revolts by plantation owners, entry of blacks into the Civil War and how the North eventually gave power, over blacks, back to the South.
Length: 67 minutes
Item#: DVL58558
ISBN: 978-1-60057-288-3
Copyright date: ©2014
Closed Captioned
Performance Rights
Rights include public performance rights.
Not available to home video customers.



1.1
1
An active line on a walk, moving freely, without goal. A walk for a walk's sake. The mobility agent is a point, shifting its position forward (Fig. 1):
Fig. 1
The same line, accompanied by complementary forms (Figs. 2 and 3):
Fig. 2
Fig. 3
16

Spaghetti
Network